Convenor: Ms. Swastishree Saikia, Dept. of English, B.H.B. College

23rd September, 2020, B.H.B. College, Sarupeta: Amidst the Covid 19 pandemic and its restricting impact on face-to-face interactive academic session, the IQAC of B.H.B. College took the initiative to organise a webinar on "Conflict Literature and the Possibilities of Interdisciplinary Research" on the Zoom digital platform. Dr. Birinchi Kumar Das, Principal of B.H.B. College, Sarupeta inaugurated the event and commented that the history of man shares a deep consensus with the history of conflict. He analysed the difference between 'conflict literature' and 'conflict in literature' and drew a similitude in the representation of conflict and trauma in literary texts from different ages and places. Dr. Prasenjit Das, Associate Professor in the Dept. of English, Krishna Kanta Handique University was invited as the resource person. He presented a detailed critical outlook on conflict literature in the context of war literature, partition literature and 9/11 literature and also discussed the historical trajectory of conflict literature. He concluded his presentation by discussing the scope of research in the area of conflict literature. The programme was hosted by Ms. Swastishree Saikia, Assistant Professor, Dept. of English, B.H.B. College, Sarupeta. A total of 30 people from Assam participated in the webinar and certificates were issued to all participants.
